About the Seminar

The national seminar aims to explore the psychological dimensions critical to India's development and progress towards the vision of Government of India – “Viksit Bharat 2047”. With growing recognition of mental health as a cornerstone for economic growth, social harmony, and national well-being, this seminar seeks to address key psychological factors that influence human capital, emotional resilience, and societal inclusiveness.

The seminar will be organized around six sub-themes:

1. Mental Health and National Well-being
2. Emotional Intelligence and Resilience
3. Psychologist in Building Human Resources
4. Psychology of Social Cohesion
5. Mental Health in the Digital Age
6. Youth Mental Health and Future Readiness

The seminar will bring together academics, mental health professionals, policymakers, and industry leaders to engage in meaningful dialogue. The outcome of the discussions will include actionable recommendations for stakeholders to integrate psychological insights into policies and practices, thus driving the agenda of a mentally resilient, socially cohesive, and economically progressive India by 2047.
