Ms Sherlin emphasized the importance of self-awareness and how critical it is for a person to succeed in life. Ms Savya told the students to identify the little things that have the power to change their life. The significance of self-motivation cannot be undermined and it would be wrong on their part to expect motivation from the outer world.

Towards the end of the session, the speaker enunciated the difference between positive and negative motivation and also encouraged the students to understand the difference between the two. Ms Sherlin also conducted a simple story-building exercise with three volunteers.

Finally, the session was kept open for the Q/A session for the students. The students enthusiastically participated in the session.
